

Hungarian Military Science Association

Hungarian Association of Military Science

CALL FOR PAPER

The Security Policy Section of the Hungarian Military Science Association cordially invites you to an international conference entitled entitled "Women in Conflict",

Date: 27 May 2026 (1 day)

Venue: Zrínyi Miklós Barracks and University Campus (ZMLEC).

Participants: The conference will bring together academic researchers and experts to share their knowledge and address the conference's central question: "How can women, through their active participation, make peace more sustainable, conflict resolution more effective, and society more resilient?"

Speakers and authors are requested to submit their presentation and/or article proposals by 4th of May 2026 at the latest on the following topics:

1. Participation in peace processes: legitimacy and sustainability.
2. Social resilience and information security: the role of women in the civil sphere, defence and decision-making structures.
3. Women's civil society organisations and the mediating role of civil society.
4. Post-war reconstruction and social reconciliation, the key role of women in rebuilding social trust.
5. NATO and the EU's interpretation of women's involvement in conflict resolution and its role in strategic capability development.
6. Women in NATO armed forces, the experiences of the Hungarian Armed Forces.
7. Regional experiences (Africa, etc.).

The conference presentations and resulting papers will be published in the journal Hadtudomány (TBD) following a peer review.

Application address: mhtt@uni-nke.hu.